Oink, oink, snort... here comes the Hog Report®.

Hog of the Week

The Hog Of The Week award goes to the Buffalo Soldiers ... again! Spencer is off to a great start. Widow who? The Three Athletes and a Thinker division may boast two of the best teams in the SFFL, only time will tell. This week we honor Matt.

What The Heck Happened?

Week 1

	116	59
---	------------	-----------	---

Scoring was not a problem for the Buffalo Soldiers. Every player got into fantasy double digits except the Redskins D. Chester Taylor is looking All-World so far this season and he was a beast again rushing for 113 yards. The Flea Flickers are still trying to work out the minor things like team name and web site logo. They've decided to go with the name "River Rats". Rats' Eli Manning had a great day 371 yards and 3 TD's. Rats' Warrick Dunn leads the NFL in rushing with 266 yards.

	112	62
---	------------	-----------	---

The surprising Pigskins continue to sneak past opponents with balanced scoring and the Ravens defense. The strength of this Pigskin team is the wide receivers and special teams. The vote is in. Augie has a new name... no, not H4 Hummers. Augie didn't like the image that conjures up in sick minds (Hennings). Augie chose the name Knuckle Dusters! It has something to do with brass knuckles, chains, knives, and Saturday night specials. Augie's the guy over there wearing his cap turned to the side. LT is carrying this team. The Knuckle Dusters need to get more production from the rest of the gang. Where's Maurice?

	92	88
---	-----------	-----------	---

A nail biting come from behind victory ... fragile Freddie Taylor came through for P-Cubed when he needed it on MNF. Peyton Manning threw for 400 yards and 3 TD's. The Rough Riders very respectfully scored 88 points. Look at his line, nearly every player scored double digits. My, how the mighty have fallen... Randy Moss 3 fantasy points. Terrell Owens 1 fantasy point. At least TO (broken finger) has an excuse. Randy Moss is no longer a fantasy factor. Dare I say drop him? The Rough Riders look to catch a break next week ... 88 points beats 8 other teams this week.

	84	81
---	-----------	-----------	---

Speaking of coming from behind ... Widowmakers, pre-season favorite to win it all, receive a startling defensive performance from the Jaguars on MNF to sneak past the Jacksonville Blackcat. Hennings' run game has yet to perform up to pre-season expectations ... Ronnie Brown has exactly 100 yards after 2 games. Cadillac Williams had 15 carries for 37 yards on Sunday. At this rate it will take him another 2 games to crack the 100 yard mark. For Boden, the most enjoyable thing has to be watching Terry Glenn out-perform the grossly overpaid Terrell Owens. Last Sunday night, Glenn had 94 yards and 1 TD while TO had 19 yards.

	79	56
---	-----------	-----------	---

Vick had one of those amazing games throwing for 92 yards and 1 TD while rushing for 127 yards and another score. The guy is simply a highlight reel waiting to happen. He's still an awesome QB despite only throwing for 92 yards. The Bear Necessities made news in the off season trading Tiki Barber for Vick ... hey, isn't it about time to let him play? The Bear Necessities would be 2-0 with Vick in the starting lineup. The Southsiders' Ravens are still trying to get their offense on track. Brian did find a diamond in the free agency rough ... Jericho Crotchery's 71 yard TD reception. I predict the Ravens (Southsiders) offense turn it around this week against the Browns (Pigskins).

73

72

DT's fortunes were hanging by a thread, a slim 4 point lead. The War Pigs appeared to be in good shape with the Steelers defense heading into MNF. Somehow somehow, the steel curtain comes up short. The Jaguars were really fired up and Joe Theisman says they're the real thing. Frank Gore, 137 total yards and 1 TD, continues to be the best RB that nobody is talking about. Reggie Bush only managed 5 yards rushing but did have 68 yards receiving. Receiving is his specialty ... you know like receiving a house or receiving a car while in college.
