The Widowmaker is the villain, and can become the spoiler. Just think what wild card havoc Hennings can make by winning the 3A&T.

"It's never over," receiver Donald Driver said. "Right now, who thought Philly would be 4-4. If you look at it right now, (the only team) really playing well is Chicago and I think Arizona showed (three weeks ago) they're not that good of a team, either. It's a battle. But sooner or later if we have to meet them again, that's the last game of the season, that's Chicago, so we're hoping by that time they lose five or six games and we're right in the hunt with them."

In order to wake Paul from his semi-vegetative state, I am calling him out and telling him to rise up, defeat the CYBORGS and carry on the tradition!! Don't be a sissy boy!! You have a job to do and you ain't doing it boy!!! You have let the Widowmakers get to you which is what you were trying to do to them with the weekly report. Did the Widowmakers beat the Pigskins at their own game? I find that hard to believe. I can NOT believe that the Pigskins have fallen so far that they can't reach down deep and revive themselves.
