Hero BYTES Villain

Widowmakers: I am blaming the loss on a conspiracy theory!!! Paul trades Javon Walker to Drew. Javon Walker scores 40 freakin points. Widowmakers lose. Amazing..... Never mind the fact I had way too much money left on the table at the draft. That is not what hurt me. I picked up a decent QB and a quality Defense. My draft was doomed the second I took the 2 top Wide Receivers in Chad Johnson and Larry Fitzgerald. My high priced studs have been absolutely worthless.

War Pigs: I'm sorry Mike, did you say something? I can't hear you because there's a baby over here drowning you out... oh wait, that IS you!

Widowmakers: Blind dogs find bones, blind squirrels find nuts and blind War Pigs find wins. It is all the law of averages. Now sit down and shut up!! Nobody asked you to squeal like a pig!!!!

War Pigs: Excuse me? The worst team in the league just beat the guy who talks the most smack in the league... if that isn't a reason to speak up, I don't know what is. And I did it without a defense!

Widowmakers: The CYBORGS are the biggest smack talker in the league followed closely by the D-Teasers. That division thinks they are unstoppable and just allowing the rest of us to play along. Not so. Clearly I am NOT the villain in this story, but a helpless victim. The villain in this story is the CYBORGS!!!!

War Pigs: Mike, nobody sees Paul as the villain for trying to beat you, because you're the villain. In most stories, the guy fighting the villain is known as the "hero". Poor Mike, why does everybody have to pick on him? If we don't stop, he might take his fantasy team and go home...

Widowmakers: Man...I must have woke up in Bizarro land!!! 49ers win!
Dolphins win! Lions win! Even Drew wins!!! And Paul is a "hero"!!!
WOW!!!
